

Formcraft Building Systems Launched in NZ

Formcraft's FastForm and FormDeck permanent formwork systems are now available throughout New Zealand with the advent of National Distributor, Formcraft New Zealand Ltd.

Formcraft New Zealand's CEO Rob Kilpatrick says that everyone in the company is extremely excited by this opportunity to supply and support the residential and commercial construction industries in the North and South Islands with Formcraft's cutting edge, well proven wall and slab systems.

The up-take of these systems in NZ has the potential to revolutionize the speed, energy-efficiency and cost-effectiveness of construction and to assist housing affordability.

Formcraft New Zealand's head office and national distribution centre is located close to the motorway in Avondale's Rosebank Road to speed distribution to the Auckland region, and other agencies will be progressively rolled out at key locations across the country.

The company will be providing information sessions for architects, engineers and builders, as well as installation training programs for formworkers and concreters wanting to become involved.

Projects already earmarked for use of Formcraft building systems include apartment blocks in Panmure, Onehunga and Mangere, a 57 townhouse community in South Auckland, as well as a Buddhist temple and accommodation for monks.

Inquires can be made to Rob Kilpatrick.
